

SI 151
The solution of quiz 10

Xin Deng

May 7, 2020

1. What is the difference between semi-supervised learning and active learning ?

Solution:

In semi-supervised learning, the data which experts need to label are sampled randomly. While in active learning, we sample the data based on Active Query, i.e., some sampling rules.